The Trouble with the Truth

Balancing Truth and Grace

Rob Renfroe

There's a lot of talk today about "culture wars." These arguments about the values that should define our culture are only a symptom of a core disagreement about what is truth. Those who hold the traditional beliefs of the Christian faith find themselves at odds with a culture that no longer believes there are universal spiritual or moral truths that apply to everyone. And that disagreement about what is true is also found within the church.

This study explores the truth—why it's in trouble, what the culture says about it, and why the church is so confused about it. Here, Rob Renfroe reminds us that the Christian life requires commitment to both truth and grace. Like a tightrope walker with a balance bar, we must learn to balance compassion for people, and passion for truth, combining them in equal measure just as Jesus did. Participants will examine the essentials about truth and grace, and discover how to be instruments of influence by following Jesus' example.
